Online Human Rights · Gender Equality Education (Violence Prevention Education)

The Gender Equality Center in Hankuk University of Foreign Studies (HUFS) would like to notify you that the statutory programs of Human Rights · Gender Equality Education(Violence Prevention Education) using e-class are implemented, in order to raise the awareness of gender equality. To create a campus culture of gender equality where the human rights of both men and women are equally respected, you are cordially requested to participate in the online programs as follows;

* As Gender Equality Education(Violence Prevention Education) is compulsory, every employee at work should take the following statutory education programs once or more times every year:

- a total of four-hour statutory education programs consisting of every one-hour video clip for prevention against sexual harassment, sexual violence, prostitution(sex trade and sex trafficking), and domestic violence

* Legal Grounds

- Section 31 of the Fundamentals of Gender Equality Act
- Article 5 of the preventive act of prostitution, protection of victim, etc.
- Article 5 of the preventive act of sexual violence and protection of victim, etc.
- the third clause of Article 4 of the preventive act of domestic violence and protection of victim, etc.

* The government conducts an annual assessment on the education outcome of public institutions including universities. If the outcome is found unsatisfied, it is subject to field inspection by the government oversight body, together with the ensuing penalties obliging its president or CEO to take the special education programs and making public its business entity name. Subsequently, its outcome will affect the score of the university evaluation conducted by the Ministry of Education.

1. Participants: All Undergraduate and Graduate Students

2. Online Course Duration: Once a year (Students are advised to take the course in the beginning of their first semester).

3. Online Education Contents and Time

- 1) Contents: 4 video clips produced by the Human Rights Center in Seoul National University
  - 2) Running Time: approximately 111 minutes
- University & Human Rights education (13 minutes 16 seconds), Sexual harassment & assault prevention education (49 minutes 02 seconds), Prostitution (Sex trade & trafficking) prevention education (26 minutes 53 seconds) and Domestic violence prevention education (22 minutes 10 seconds)

4. How to take the online course

Log-in HUFS website (<http://hufs.ac.kr>) → Click ‘폭력예방교육 수강하기’(Taking Violence Prevention Education)’ on Mypage site → Click online lecture → Participate all 4 video clips → Take the test for formative assessment → Participate in Satisfaction Survey / Finish the course

5. Please be advised:

- ① to click the button below the learning window after a lecture; otherwise, credits will not be recognized.
- ② to submit the test results after completing all four lectures; otherwise, your credits will not be recognized as well.
